

DIVES DIVES DIVES

FEATURING:
TRACY WESTMORELAND

Get ready to take the trip of a lifetime with Tracy Westmoreland, the true Dive Bar King, as he searches for the greatest dive bars in America!

Who better than Tracy, the owner of SIBERIA, Zagats number-one rated dive bar, ever. SIBERIA was located in the Subway at 50th and Broadway. It was the only bar that was ever issued a liquor license in the NYC subways. It became legend and the favorite hangout for celebrities, journalists, politicians and everyone in between.

ANTHONY BOURDAIN:
AUTHOR & CHEF

"I would crawl across broken glass, naked with a knife in my teeth, any time, night or day... If Tracy called me up drunk at 4 o'clock in the morning and wanted me to show up any time, any place, wearing a fucking chicken suit, I'd do it."

~ Anthony Bourdain

"I would do anything within my power to help Tracy."

~ Hillary Clinton

Jimmy Fallon

"When I first moved to the city, I lived on the same block as SIBERIA. I didn't have cash with me and they didn't take credit cards - so I asked to start a tab. [Tracy] came over and said, 'Hey, give this kid a beer.' Then I asked for money for the jukebox. We've been friends ever since."

~ Jimmy Fallon to Page Six, 12/15/2006

Tracy has also worked security at some of the top night spots in NYC, and has the "gift of gab" of an Irishman. As an undisputed expert in dive bar culture, Tracy is on a journey to find the real-life, dive bar underbelly in each city.

How it works...

There's a Dive Bar in every city!

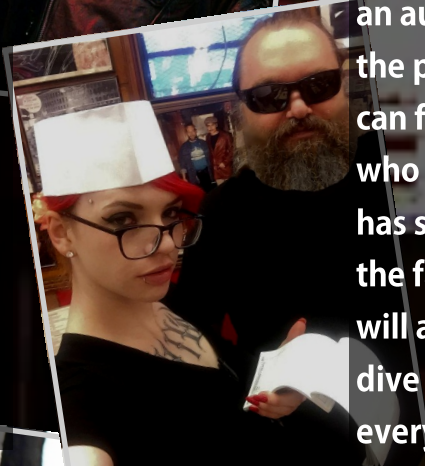

Tracy is on a road trip to find the best down and dirty watering holes the country has to offer. Thanks to his network, and his social media guru, Nicky Boy, the invitations are rolling in from cities across the US.

Ala Anthony Bourdain, Tracy will roll into town, joined by local legends, celebrities and other dive bar aficionados to hunt down its top five dive bars. The series will take us on an incredible journey that shows the real underbelly of the dive bar world of each city.

Sometimes he will meet up with a trusted guide, who knows where the action is, and will take Tracy to the best dive bars in town and explore the folklore and personalities of Americana in the 21st century.

There is a certain, palpable ambiance, to an authentic dive bar - Tracy can sniff out the pretenders and find the real deal! He can find out where the bodies are buried, who has been sleeping with who and who has swindled who out of what. Find out the family feuds and local politics. Tracy will also be on the look out for the best dive bar food, from barbecue, to pizza and everything in between.

Each episode will be a different city - New York, Chicago, Kansas City, Houston, etc. At the end of each show Tracy will pick what he thinks is the Number One Dive Bar. The viewer will also be in on the action (sharing their favorite thoughts, pictures and videos) through Nicky Boy and his Dives, Dives, Dives social media presence.

We will find out what it takes to be a real dive bar, and meet the characters that inhabit them! Has America become one big shopping mall or does it still have soul? Take the trip with Tracy and find out what awaits...
